rectors of Amusements Will Meet at Noon To-Day to Discuss the Situation-Attraction Reopens.

An altercation on the Pike yesterday fternoon between many of the conces-ionaires and a group of Jefferson Guards ho insisted that the Paris show use a hopper, or ticket box that had been sent to it, did not end until a guard had drawn is sword on two concessionaires.

essions, was notified, and the guards were withdrawn, but it is said that the concesdonaires will hold a meeting at the Irish building at noon to-day, when the entire matter will be discussed. About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a chopper-box was sent to the "Paris" show, with instructions that it be used. These instructions were from the Exposition authorities, it is said.

Mort Stone, who is in charge of "Paris, said that he did not object to using the box, but did object to the bill, which was $66.75. An inspector, however, it is said, ordered the money to be paid at once under threat of closing the show. The money was not paid, and the Jefferson Guards pass the entrance.

Many concessionaires on the Pike, learning of the predicament of the "Paris" people, gathered around the inspector to discuss the situation. The altercation be-came warm, and a Jefferson guard drew his sword, threatening John Dunnavant, who is interested in "Under and Over the Sea" and "Hereafter." He also drew his sword on J. F. Burns, who was formerly official photographer of the Exposition. Finally Norris Gregg, Director of Concessions, was notified of the trouble, the Jefferson Guards were withdrawn, and "Paris" was allowed to reopen.

PAINTING OF AN ARRIVES TO-DAY

Will Be Unveiled by Prince Pu Lun With Special Cere-

At last the "counterfeit presentment" of An, Empress Dowager of Cathay, is due to arrive on a definite date, reaching St. Louis this morning at 7:15 o'clock over the Wabash from Omaha. It comes in a dal express car.

Chief Hilleary of the Traffic Bureau has made all arrangements to have the car brought immediately to the tracks of the Exposition terminals, just south of the Art Palace, in order that it may be unpacked for the unveiling without delay. A special engine will draw the special car

The picture will be hung in the Amer-can section of the Palace of Fine Arts, ican section of the Palace of Fine Arts, where it will be unveiled with ceremony to-motrow morning by Prince Pu Lun, in the presence of his suite and a large number of the Exposition officials.

The royal portrait was accompanied to this country by a special escort. Sheng Nang Hoe, a Chinese official of high degree, who with the reverence of a Celectial for things imperial, is ready to lay down his life in defense of the portrait. Besides, if anything happened to it he would probably lose his head, as he is held personally responsible for the safety of the painting.

The portrait was painted by Miss Carl, an American girl, sister of Francis A. Carl, the Assistant Commissioner of the Chinese Commission to the World's Fair. The canvas is $\bar{\text{b}}$ by if feet in the frame. It evidently greatly flatters the old lady Dowager, as she is said to have been immensely pleased over the limning of her features and to have decreed that all of her suite must kow-tow to the artist or it would be a case of "off with their heads."

Miss Carl is in high favor with An, it is said, and at the present time is an honored guest at the summer palace at Tientisten.

GUARD REJOINS HIS REGIMENT,

Regular Soldier on Purlough Sees the Fair for Rothing.

There was another resignation from the Jefferson Guards yesterday. It was a cause. The guard who resigned was H. S. Sullivan, and the reason why he did so was because if he had not resigned he would have been liable to a charge of de-sertion from the United States Army. settlon from the United States Army.
Sullivan is a First Sergeant in the Sixth United States Infantry, and he severed his connection with the Jefferson Guards because his four months' furlough was up and he had to join his regiment.
All of this furlough was spent as a member of the Jefferson Guard, the ruiing passion being so strong in him that he could not resist the temptations of a soldier's life, even on his vacation. Also the life of a guard was a pleasant relaxation, offering him a good chance to see the Fair.

ted. Singsbury says that complaints in the guards rarely come from men have had a regular army training so men seem to realise that a life of ice, even in a semimilitary organizabilite the guard, is not one in which all comforts of home and the luxuries of rawing-room may be expected. Most hem find it vastly easier, than any ice in the regular army to which they been accustomed.

Negrito archers aimed at them. Sparrows have recently become a great est in the reservation, and the happy expedient of furnishing the Negrito marksmen with target practice and at the same time exterminating the post was hit upon. The idea originated with John Krider of the Cafe Luzon. A veranda an eighth of a mile long, where the guests are served, is a feature of one restaurant, and when the activity of the sparrows began to interfere with the comfort of his guests Mr. Krider conceived the plan of employing the Filipinos to slaughter the birds.

The Negritos are liberated from the bambo stockade of their village for an hour or more every morning, and can be seen swarming about the grounds and discharging steel-pointed arrows at the sparrows. men with target practice and at the same

Executive officers of the Philippine Comnission are preparing elaborate plans for the formal opening next Saturday of the the formal opening next Saturday of the Philippine Exposition. One of the most spectacular features of the occasion will be a parade in which all the splendors of the far Eastern possessions of the United States will be pictured.

The parade will offer features which never before have been included in any circus or midway known to this country. The head-hunting, dog-eating igorrotes with scant four-in-hand G-string trousers as their sole article of dress will enhance interest in the procession, as will also the cannibalistic Lanao Moros, who are even now butchering United States soldiers in their home country.

The Samai Moros, or Sea Roverá who are the native maritime power of the islands, the tree-dwelling Moros, the Negritos, the dwarf aboriginal race of the Philippines, carrying their quivers of poisoned arrows, and the well-educated, attractive Visayans, numbering among their women the most beautiful Filipinos to be found in the islands.

As a contrast to the native tribes in the parade will be found in the same and the second at the parade will be found in the same and the second at the parade will be found in the same and the second at the parade will be found in the same and the same and

As a contrast to the native tribes in the parade, will be found the Scout soldiers, including the famous company of the renowned Macabebe fighters, and the Constabulary soldiers, who serve as a police force for the maintaining of order in the city of Manila.

No parade since the opening day of the Exposition has enjoyed better music than will be furnished by the noted Constabulary Band of eighty pieces and the Philippine Scouts Band on that day.

FOOD EXHIBITORS ORGANIZE. Wish to Co-operate With Department of Agriculture.

The food exhibitors in the Palace of Ag-riculture have effected an organization, known as the Food Section Association of the Agriculture building. The object of the association is to promote social and business intercourse among the members and to co-operate with the Chief of the Arriculture Department, F. W. Taylor, and the Superintendent of the food section, Paul Pierre, in nonularizing the food section. Superintendent of the food section, Paul Pierce, in popularising the food section.

The organization was effected at a meeting of the food exhibitors yesterday aftermoon in Assembly Hall, in the south balcony of the Palace of Agriculture. Mr. Morris was temporary chairman, and Fred M. Randall acted as secretary.

A committee of five was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws. This committee is composed of A. J. High, F. M. Randall, J. A. Deffry, W. A. Upham and H. A. Strauss. The next meeting will be held to-morrow at 1 p. m. in Assembly Hall, at which time officers will be elected. The members of the association declare that the purpose of the organization is to co-operate with and not to antagonize the Department of Agriculture.

RUSSIAN EXHIBIT ON WAY. Plans for Facade Have Been Ap-

A cablegram has been received stating that the long-delayed Russian exhibit is now en route to St. Louis. It will be installed in the Palace of Varied Industrics and the Manufactures building. A drawing has been received by the Department of Manufactures of the Incade for the Russian section in the Varied Industries building.

The facade will be elaborate, and the plans have just been approved by the manager of the Russian exhibit and Councilor of Commerce.

It will follow the ancient Byzantine style of architecture, with a large Byzantine arch in the center, from which will float Russian flags. The arch will be beautifully carved and painted. There will be two booths in the Varied Industries section devoted to the Russian exhibit, one large room 78x75 feet and one smaller, 37x 20 feet.

DIAMONDS SENT BACK TO OWNER

Mrs. Emma Nuckols, Hostess of the Missouri Building Receives Jewels Stolen Last Thursday.

Two diamonds, valued at $250, which were stolen Thursday night from rings owned by Mrs. Emma Nuckols, the hostess of the Missouri State building, who esides at No. 327A Boyle avenue, and which were replaced with imitation stones, were returned to their owner yesterday in a letter.

The police say that there is as much mystery in the return of the diamonds as there was in the theft. A letter which the stones had been given to the writer stated that he thought the diamonds be-longed to Mrs. Nuckols, and for that reason he returned them. The writer signed himself "B. B. TELLTALE SIGNS DECORATE TRAIN

Everybody on Board Knew That Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bernet of Jerseyville Had Just Been Married.

"They Are on Their Honeymoon, Going to St. Louis," "Mary Loves Harry," "Please Be Kind to Them," "May They Live in Peace and Happiness," were som of the signs with which the friends of Mr and Mrs. Harry Bernet decorated the train on which the young couple left Jer day over the Chicago and Alton Railroad just after being married.

While the decoration was in progress the conductor of the train was held in the waiting-room of the station and not al-lowed to interfere.

Fifteen carriages leaded with friends of the two young persons followed the bride and groom from the home of the bride, where the wedding took place, to the station, blowing horns and merrymaking generally, and every now and then some member of the jovial party would get out of one of the carriages, run to the carwere seated and deluge them with a handful of rice. The wedding was attended by fully 200 persons, many of the guests being from St. Louis, where the bridal couple are well known.

The bride, who was Miss Mary Scott, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Scott of Jerseyville, and is a member of the Deuce of Clubs Club, which took an active part in the funmaking.

Mr. Bernet has until his marriage lived at Webster Groves, Mo., where he was Mr. and Mrs. Bernet will make their home at Chautauqua, Ill.
